DETAILED ACTIONClaim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 6806930 B2.

Per claim 16, 930 teaches polymerizing a polymerizable liquid crystal layer [142, see the second full paragraph of column 6] that has been printed [see line 7 of column 6] onto one surface of a reflective substrate [10,12].

Art Unit: 2871

930 teaches printing the LC layer but does not teach an explicit printing method. However, each of the claimed methods were well known for fast and accurate printing. Further, this appears to be a complete list, and thus 930 would have to use one of these methods. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill at the time of invention to use screen printing, offset printing, dry offset printing, reel-to-reel printing, letter press printing, gravure printing, rotogravure printing, flexographic printing, intaglio printing, pad printing, heat-seal printing, inkjet printing, thermal transfer printing or printing by means of a stamp or printing plate in order to quickly and accurately print the LC layer.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-15, 17-21 and 24-36 are allowed.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 5/7/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's arguments do not appear relevant to claim 16 as none of the necessary limitation are found in claim 16.
